UST ANGELICUM HOME STUDY PROGRAM GOT YOU COVERED!

The UST Angelicum College Home Study Program (HSP) which is recognized by DepEd-NCR in 1996, caters to the academic needs of those who cannot be physically present in school on a regular basis brought about by health conditions and employment. It also caters to those who have exceeded the normal age of schooling, but want to complete their basic education.

The HSP Learner is given two (2) days one-on-one learning sessions with facilitators each week. Consultations, small group discussions, checking of modular activities, and oral examination are provided.

Experience the same alternative and transformative learner-centered, non-graded and self-paced education in our Home Study Program (HSP - Online Distance Learning). As a PAASCU III Basic Education program, HSP at UST Angelicum College allows you to learn on your own pace, under the guidance of our subject matter expert facilitators, at a learning station of your choice.

Having a flexible learning station allows Thomasian Angelicans to choose their academic space. A full virtual class or a combination of virtual with 1 to 2 days of onsite consultation ensures efficient learning delivery.

Having a subject matter expert as a facilitator allows Thomasian Angelicans to get the best learning experience. A UST Angelicum facilitator is available to conduct regular discussions or module consultations so that learners can enjoy an authentic academic environment.

Having reasonable tuition that covers only the essential infrastructure needed in a distance learning delivery allows Thomasian Angelicans to get maximum value for their enrollment. A maximized miscellaneous fee that is added to the basic tuition creates an optimized quality education.

Applicants to the Home Study Program, which covers the full Basic Education beginning from YS2 are assessed for level placement and fitness to the online distance learning academic delivery.
